IN BRIEF

Carbo was a great dog, smart thinking and a clever retriever, whether he was competing, hunting or just being with the family, he was easy to live with and a pleasure to be around.

Carbo was a hard running dog he consistently ran straight lines and particularly excelled in marking with a strong understanding of concepts. He was also excellent with water retrieves, his biggest strength was his sagacity and his ability to work things out for himself when working out of sight.

Carbo was a pleasure to work with.

Several of his progeny are currently competing in Retrieving Trials.
